- Our Safety and Occupational Health policy sets out the steps we are taking to achieve our vision including our approach to training and reporting.

Our Safety and Occupational Health policy sets out the steps we are taking to achieve our vision including our approach to training and reporting.

Our Approach

- To know we did everything possible to prevent unacceptable risks to our colleagues and the public.
- To take personal responsibility for our health and safety and that of others and ensure line managers are accountable for the health and safety of their team.
- To create the culture where we constructively challenge unsafe behaviours wherever they occur.
- To learn lessons quickly and to find solutions that prevent colleagues or the public being injured in the future.
- To stop work and ask for assistance if we think our safety or that of colleagues or the public is at risk.
- To encourage and support our employees to improve safety outside the workplace.
- To require our contractors to operate to the same high standard as we do and encourage them to share our vision and belief. To build on the commitment of everyone to make the continuous improvements necessary to achieve our vision.
